KING DAUGHTERS OPEN HOUSE AND SHOWER, MAY 12TH

Put a circle around the 12 on your May calendar and don't accept any invitations for the afternoon of that day. That is the day you are invited to the Kings Daughters Hospital "Open House and Shower" which is an annual affair and celebrates the birthday of Florence Nightingale. The hospital needs sisters and pill-box cases but is appreciative of any gift that is received. Come out on that day and in this small way show your appreciation of an institution that has grown from a very small clinic to a hospital which is indispensable to Bay St. Louis and which has been instrumental in saving many lives. Shower your gifts on the hospital and a shower of blessings will be your reward.

KILLED IN ACTION

PFC. EUGENE BERMOND
Our community was shocked and grieved when the news reached here on Tuesday afternoon that Pfc. Eugene Bermond, Army, had been killed in action. He is one of the five sons of Mr. and Mrs. Rene Bermond of this city all of whom are in the service with the exception of Rene Richard Bermond, Jr., who after two years of service was given a medical discharge.
Pfc. Bermond entered the service on July 14, 1943, trained at Camp Hann and was in Belgium. He received a shoulder wound on January 20 of this year but had gone back in combat when he was killed. He had sent the Purple Heart to his mother which she had received only the day before the message came of his death.
It is such news as this that brings the war home to all of us and should give us new courage to go forward with the work on the Home Front in order to feel that we are doing some small thing that we may merit the sacrifice this fine boy has made.
Words are inadequate to express to his family the deep sympathy felt in Bay St. Louis, where Eugene was born and lived his short life.
May they be consoled in the fact that he died the death of a Hero, giving his life so that others might live.

Rev. W. S. Allen Goes To Pass Christian

Rev. W. S. Allen pastor of the Bay St. Louis Baptist church for the past fifteen years, has accepted a full time pastorate of the Pass Christian Baptist Church and has tendered his resignation to the Bay St. Louis church effective May 31. His successor has not been selected.
Mr. Allen has served the two churches giving alternate Sundays to each but has resided in Pass Christian and when the church offered him the full time pastorate he accepted.
The congregation of the Bay church are sheep without a shepherd for the present and realize that Mr. Allen's place will be hard to fill. He has not only endeared himself to the members of his church but to the people of Bay St. Louis as well and his friends hope that he will be happy in his new field.

You pay the same price you would pay at a book store and the library makes a small amount. Give the library your orders.

Among those coming from Biloxi and Gulfport were Mrs. Burdine Resident of the Biloxi review, Miss Nora Hammett and Mrs. Stone.
A program of entertainment was arranged and Margelo Damborino and Gloria Bieh gave vocal numbers and Mrs. Thompson favored with vocal numbers. "Bill" Cope played several selections on the accordion. The affair was one of the loveliest of its kind given and was thoroughly enjoyable.

A CALL TO PRAYER

A call to prayer in behalf of the success of the United Nations Conference to be held in San Francisco beginning April 25 has been issued by Governor Thomas L. Bailey.
In this call the Governor says: "The success of this conference can offer reasonable hope for the development of a just and durable peace. We have pledged ourselves and your youth in the armed forces that we shall work toward a peace that shall be lasting. We believe that the wisdom for creating a general security organization and for perfecting plans for a permanent peace must come through men and from God."
"Consequently, I am asking all the citizens in Mississippi to meet in their respective places of worship and offer special prayers to Almighty God on Sunday, April 22, 1945 and that they shall have special community mid-week services on Wednesday, April 25, 1945 for the San Francisco Conference of the United Nations."
"I should pray to God that in His Infinite Wisdom the delegates composing the Conference may be given the ability to perfect an international organization and a world order based on freedom and justice under law."
"This reinforces the activity of the Mississippi Rural Life Council, of which Governor Bailey is president, in making April Church Emphasis month. Forty-seven of the newspapers in Mississippi are carrying weekly advertisements during April emphasizing church attendance and many churches in the state are reporting larger congregations and renewed interest as a result of the emphasis that is being placed upon church attendance through the newspapers."
April 22nd is designated as Visitation Sunday in this program of the Council. The program will conclude with all the churches in Mississippi being requested to observe Rural Life Sunday on April 29th.

The Black Market Penny And How It Can Count Up

If each person in the eight states of this Region puts an average of just a penny a day into some tiny Black Market operation, say, 20c. Instead of 19c, for cigarettes, 7c instead of 6c for a pound of sugar, it would amount to 208,982 a day, and in a year's time the total would be $75,257,661.
If we all should go for these penny Black Market violations it is easy to see how we would contribute to inflation. When it comes to paying $20 above ceiling for a bit of furniture, $200 above ceiling for a used car, 10c above the ceiling for a gallon as gasoline we begin to see the cumulative effect of these individual violations.
The penny a day violations in the states of this Region would run something like this in the course of a year:
Alabama $10,163,990
Florida 7,457,902
Georgia 11,199,889
Mississippi 7,488,668
North Carolina 12,505,323
South Carolina 6,714,258
Tennessee 10,473,594
Virginia 10,234,123

A PAPER ON FLOWER ARRANGEMENT

(Written and read by Mrs. Nina Stillwell at the March meeting of the Bay-Waveland Garden Club.)

Some one has said that in art, rules are to be learned and then forgotten—if everyone followed the rules of flower arrangement to the letter there would be no variety and no individuality.

I feel that flower arrangement should have the stamp of the person who made it just as the painter's work can be recognized by certain characteristic handling of his subject or the composer's individuality in music or the author by his style of writing.

The Japanese study of flower arrangement is a course of seven years. It is all tied up with religious symbolism and trying to become a kind of a little like god with the gods. It is a little like god with the gods. It is a little like god with the gods. It is a little like god with the gods.

The most direct way it seems to me is to study and imitate Nature for all the rules have their origin in her.

Arrange flowers in the way that they grew by nature. For instance the characteristic way for wisteria to grow is to cascade so I would choose a vase which would allow it to do so and if possible one whose lines suggest the growth of wisteria and one whose color blends. The common yellow Jasmine falls in somewhat the same way. In this arrangement of Jasmine I have accented the design with bare branches of fig trees.

To give an arrangement which artists call "composition" consider first the setting, that is the shape of the space in which the arrangement is to be placed. Choose a vase suitable to the space and flowers suitable both in form and color. Then put the flowers in the vase in such a way as to carry out the lines of the vase and the shape of the space and if other objects are used they too must be in relation to the rest.

The very first thing a painter does is to place in proper relation into a given space everything that is to be in the picture.

Another lead in Nature is that leaves either imitate the shape of the flower or else are the very opposite in form. In the case of Poinsettia, Trillium, Hydrangea—these are similar whereas in the Iris the flower is made up of curves folding into one another while the leaf leaves either imitate the shape of the flower or else are the very opposite in form.

So please forget all I have told you. Strike out on your own and do whatever gives you the most pleasure.

CANCER CAMPAIGN STARTS APRIL 15

Addresses Methodist Missionary Union

Miss Louise Holmes, Supervisor of Public Health Nurses in South Mississippi, gave a short talk to the Ladies Missionary Union on Tuesday afternoon on the subject of Cancer.
Miss Holmes gave a word picture of the disease, describing its insidious nature and impressing on the audience the fact that cancer has killed more Americans since Dec. 7, 1941 than the combined Armies of Germany and Japan have killed.

Musical at S. J. A. Monday, April 23

A delightful evening is offered the friends and parents of some St. Joseph Academy students when on Monday, April 23, Sister Marie Antoinette, musical directress, will present a few of her pupils in the school auditorium.
A short play entitled "The Witch of Harmony Hill" will be given and this will be followed by several musical numbers rendered by Misses Mary Jaclyn Robertson, Irma Kenney and Ruth Tucker.
This entertainment is complimentary and friends and relatives of the student body are invited to be the guests of the school and a very pleasant evening is assured.
Remember the date, Monday, April 23, and the place, the St. Joseph Academy auditorium.

shoots out straight and flat.

Here then is a suggestion in Nature for an arrangement namely to employ two forms to make your design. One finds this parallel in other branches of art—for instance in music where two themes are woven together or else against each other. Or again in literature where two characters are contrasted. But to turn back to the simplest of all arrangements—one single flower can be all sufficient and exquisite for Nature makes her own design with one flower with its leaves.

Nature seldom masses her blooms or deprives them of leaves. I think the mistake of crowding a lot of flowers into a vase is often made. It certainly destroys the grace of its natural growth and robs it of all design. And to strip the flowers of their leaves and lay them corpse like in the shape of a heart or other funeral patterns is an affront to Nature. Patterns that are not entirely in accord with Nature are made and often very effective so but the great danger in doing this is to produce a too studied and artificial effect.

The subject of color is another whole topic in itself and can be made a real study. One color can be used, or colors that blend or as in design contrasting colors can be used. It is too large a subject to attempt here.

Then the matter of introducing little figures into the picture enters into more intricate composition but is great fun to play with. And you need not be limited to figures. They are not always available. A fan, a string of beads, drift wood or anything your fancy may lead you to. So you see it is all closely akin to other arts but especially to painting and therefore can be given endless study and individuality.

So please forget all I have told you. Strike out on your own and do whatever gives you the most pleasure.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT

NEWS of the death of President Franklin D. Roosevelt, on last Thursday afternoon, shocked the people of this country and the world.

This nation has lost an able leader. Whether one agreed with all of his policies, or his thoughts relative to methods of government, it was necessary that recognition be given his ability and his farsightedness in governmental affairs.

He came into office during a period of economic emergency and he set out to restore public confidence. He secured the enactment of legislation which produced a social revolution, but won the approval in principle of his political opponents. It was he, though reared in riches, whose thoughts were always of the forgotten man. It was he who led each fight to give the laboring man and poorer classes an opportunity for a better way of life.

He put aside his reform program, however, in an effort to unite the people to meet the perilous problems of an approaching war. When war did come, his amazing comprehension of the import and magnitude of the struggle enabled him to mobilize the resources and man power of this country for the prosecution of a successful warfare. His travels in the interest of the prosecution of the war, and of future peace, probably hastened his death. History will record him as one of the greatest presidents of this country.

Regardless of what the personal feelings of any particular individual may have been, his death has cast a shadow of sorrow over all.

REAL CHARITY

THE Bay St. Louis Rotary Club has accepted the sponsorship of the Drive for the gathering of used clothes in Hancock County.

This is an outstanding service being rendered by this body of representative business men of Bay St. Louis. They are helping to provide clothes for the needy people of war torn nations.

We in this country do not realize what suffering has come to these people. We do not know what war actually means, what terror and privations these people endure, and what a little of the comforts of life means to them.

We are certain that every family throughout the county has some small item of clothing that would probably help to bring happiness and joy to some poor individual in one of the countries of our allied nations. Won't you go through your clothes closets and take out the clothes that are no longer useful to the members of your own family, and bring them to one of the centers set aside for the collection of these clothes.

Certainly, if there were not an urgent need for these, your country would not be making this call. We feel that this is an opportunity for every American to do a real act of charity.

7TH WAR LOAN

"7 DAYS for the 7th—Get the job done by May 21," is the campaign slogan of the Mississippi State War Finance Committee for the 7th War Loan Drive, which starts on May 14th.

It is the plan and purpose of Mississippians to raise their E Bond quota in seven days. Americans as individuals are taking on their biggest quota to date—Seven Billion Dollars, Four Billion in E Bonds alone.

Many probably wonder why this biggest of all individual quotas is set up at this time. Many feel that we have already reached the peak, and it is a thought that requires a straight answer. THE MONEY IS NEEDED FOR WAR. The battle of Japan has just begun. It must be backed up, paid for, fought for by a free people, intent on sweeping the Pacific clear of fascist hate—forever.

With the war in the West our first and major concern, we have not yet been able to go all-out in the East. But neither has the Jap.

The war to crush Japan will be bigger, tougher, and longer than most Americans expect. The Allied Military Command has estimated that it will take years, not months.

Our State quota is $52,000,000.00, $29,000,000.00 E Bonds and $23,000,000.00 other securities. In Hancock County our quota is $255,000.00, $165,000.00 of E Bonds and $90,000.00 of other securities. The $165,000.00 of E Bonds must be sold to individuals.

It is a man-size job, but we feel that the people of our county will again come to the front, and they will not falter.

By investing in the Seventh War Loan, the patriotic American is safeguarding his own future, his country's future.

By putting every dollar over rock-bottom expenses into the purchase of War Bonds, he is delivering a body blow to wartime inflation—thus putting a lid on the cost of living and maintaining intact the purchasing power of the dollar. At the same time too, he is insuring the country and himself against the catastrophe of a possible post-war deflation—with its depression, unemployment, misery, and heartache.

So save your country—save for yourself. In helping your country, you are also helping yourself. Comes peace, we'll all need money for education, replacements, retirement, new homes, a new start—and we'll need a lot of it. There isn't a better or safer highway to your goal than United States Savings Bonds.

Let us join hands and do our part for our own sake, and for our country.

AT A & G. THEATRE SUNDAY AND MONDAY "EXPERIMENT PERILOUS"

An Emotional Thriller, Hedy Lamarr, George Brent, Paul Lukas Starred

Romance and mystery are skillfully blended in RKO Radio Pictures' thrilling new film "Experiment Perilous."

The story which stars Hedy Lamarr, George Brent and Paul Lukas, concerns the plight of a beautiful girl married to a wealthy philanthropist who in reality is a psychopathic killer. He seeks to destroy her and their little son by the power of suggestion, and includes in his plans a doctor who is in love with her.

Hedy Lamarr has the role of the wife who is slowly being driven insane while Brent plays the doctor. Lukas is the suave, sinister husband whose madness starts the trouble. Replete with thrills from the start, the picture ends in an exciting climax.

Heading the supporting cast are Albert Dekker, Carl Esmond and Margaret Wyckoff. Robert Fellows produced, and Jacques Tourneur directed the screen play by Warren Duff from a novel by Margaret Carpenter, a Literary Guild selection.

ORTTE THEATRE SUNDAY AND MONDAY LANA TURNER IN "MARRIAGE IS A PRIVATE AFFAIR"

With John Hodiak-James Craig in M-G-M's Romantic Hit

That's the only way we can describe "Marriage Is A Private Affair," in which Lana Turner makes a welcome return to the screen at the Ortte Theatre after a considerable absence. Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer has spared nothing to make this gripping story one of its outstanding productions and entrusted its guidance to two of Hollywood's top men, Director Robert Z. Leonard and Producer Pandro S. Berman.

The star more glamorous than ever and more completely a superb dramatic actress than ever before, receives excellent support from the hand-picked cast which reads like a Hollywood Blue Book. Lana has two leading men, James Craig and John Hodiak, and they deserve star billing themselves for their portrayals of admirer and husband of Lana, respectively, in the film.

Lana plays irresponsible Theo West, whose road to love and happiness is tortuous indeed. She marries Lt. Tom West (Hodiak) after a romance which begins at an Officers' Canteen. Her favorite ways make it doubtful whether the marriage will last, but she settles down after a blessed event. She tries to model her life after that of two of her closest friends, but her faith in marriage crumbles when she learns that the girl is carrying on with another man. Theo encourages the attentions of another officer, Capt. Miles Lansing (Craig) and becomes confused as to just where her heart belongs. How the problem is solved makes for a thrilling and absorbingly human story.

Entire Nation Mourns Death Of Franklin D. Roosevelt; Vast Tasks Face Truman

FRANKLIN DELANO ROOSEVELT
JANUARY 30, 1882—APRIL 12, 1945.

AS THE guns of America's fighting forces sounded ever closer the doom of Nazi Germany and Imperial Japan, Franklin Delano Roosevelt died in Warm Springs, Georgia, where he had been resting for 10 days.

Death resulted from a cerebral hemorrhage at 4:35 p. m. on April 12. Mr. Roosevelt was 63. He had been President for 12 years, one month and nine days. The White House was announced as the site of the funeral, with interment at the family estate at Hyde Park, N. Y.

Less than four months had elapsed since he had taken his historic oath of office for a fourth term. Only a few weeks before he had returned from the Yalta conference where in company with Marshal Stalin of Russia and Prime Minister Churchill of Great Britain he had labored to build an enduring peace.

Fate denied Franklin Roosevelt the chance to enjoy the fruits of victory over the Axis. Yet history seemed destined to enshrine him as one of the immortal American Presidents. And every citizen who mourned the untimely passing of the Commander-in-Chief felt that he was a casualty of the war just as every G. I., Marine and Sailor who had fallen in battle.

Never before had an American President died in wartime. Abraham Lincoln fell under Assassin Booth's bullet just five days after the surrender of General Lee's army at Appomattox in 1865. Woodrow Wilson lived to see victory over Germany in World War I, but he fought a losing battle for the League of Nations and died early in 1924, a defeated leader. Many historians believe Lincoln's greatness might have been dimmed in the conflicts over reconstruction that followed the War Between the States, just as Wilson's prestige was lost in the conflict over the league that followed World War I. Thus Franklin Roosevelt, dying at the height of his career just as victory was to be achieved over Germany, seemed likely to live in history as a great man.

As the American people from Main Street to Riverside Drive mourned the death of Franklin Roosevelt, their prayers went up for his successor, Harry S. Truman. For on the shoulders of this slight, gray, 60-year-old Missourian had been laid a responsibility such as no American President had ever borne.

What the consequences of the President's death would be to the United States and the world, time alone would tell. But as Americans recovered from their first shock at the news, they quickly determined two things. The war must be prosecuted to as speedy and victorious a finish as possible. Lasting peace must be established.

And so, regardless of party or of past political differences, the people have rallied behind Mr. Truman.

The new President faces the immediate task of directing American participation in the United Nations' blueprints for a permanent world organization. He likewise faces the responsibility of establishing working relations with other members of the Big Three, so that the personal cooperation which existed between Franklin D. Roosevelt, Josef Stalin and Winston Churchill in leading the Allies toward victory

PRECEDENTS OUT:

Throughout his career as President, Franklin D. Roosevelt was known as the "precedent breaker." That title was first conferred in 1932 when he flew out to Chicago from Albany, N. Y., to address the Democratic convention that had nominated him. It continued after his election as a result of his informal methods of transacting business. But it reached a climax in his decision to seek a third term in 1940 and a fourth term in 1944.

33rd PRESIDENT OF U. S.

may be maintained in helping win the peace. He faces the long-range job of guiding the nation to postwar economic prosperity once Nazi Germany and Japan are finally defeated.

Known as a plain, modest man who has not dramatized himself personally, President Truman nevertheless has demonstrated on many occasions that he can be a leader of force and determination. His work as chairman of the Truman committee in the U. S. senate investigating the conduct of the war is cited as an example of this. And his conduct of the Vice Presidency has shown that he can work successfully with political leaders of both parties in getting needed measures passed and in reconciling opposing points of view.

The 33rd President was born in Lamar, Mo., May 8, 1884, although the home of the family for four generations had been on a farm near Independence, Mo.

Served in World War I.
When World War I broke out, Truman became captain of Battery D in the field artillery of the 38th Division and saw action at St. Mihiel and in the Meuse-Argonne offensive.

Back in Independence, Truman and a war buddy opened a haberdashery business. He married his boyhood sweetheart, Bess Wallace, and they have one daughter, Mary Margaret.

Truman later turned to politics for a career which started with his election as County Judge of Jackson county, Mo. In 1926 he became the presiding judge of Jackson county, with the endorsement of Tom Pendergast, political boss of Kansas City. He studied law at night and supervised the construction of a great highway system.

President's Life Was Characterized By Vigorous Action

Unlike the "log-cabin" presidents, Franklin Delano Roosevelt was not born into poverty. When Franklin arrived at Hyde Park, N. Y., on January 30, 1882, he came into a family that had possessed wealth for many generations. The Roosevelts had been thrifty land-owners in the Hudson valley since the first of the family came over from Holland. On his mother's side also there was a substantial fortune. Among his ancestors were many men who had served the state in various capacities.

Young Franklin attended the very fashionable Groton school, where he prepared for Harvard university. After completing the liberal arts course he entered Columbia U. law school, from which he was graduated in 1907. Two years earlier, however, he married his distant cousin, Anna Eleanor Roosevelt. Eleanor was a niece of Theodore Roosevelt, at that time in the White House.

After two years of legal practice, Franklin entered politics, running on the Democratic ticket for the New York state senate. He unexpectedly defeated a strong Republican candidate. From the beginning of his career he identified himself with reform movements, opposing the powerful Tammany organization in the statehouse. He was re-elected in 1912, at which time he had become a leader of the anti-Tammany faction.

Woodrow Wilson appointed Roosevelt assistant secretary of the navy. When World War I broke out Roosevelt proved himself an efficient administrator, handling billions of dollars' worth of contracts for ships and supplies. He served in this post throughout the war.

Ran for Vice President.

In 1920 the Democratic national convention chose him as running mate for James Cox. While campaigning for the vice presidency Roosevelt made many acquaintances valuable in later political life. Cox being defeated, F.D.R. returned to legal practice.

The following year the great tragedy of his life struck him—infantile paralysis. The big, strong young man became a bedridden invalid. For months he lay without ambition, almost without hope. Slowly his powerful will took command, however, and by persistent effort he partially regained the use of his muscles. It was during his convalescence at Warm Springs, Ga., that he determined to do what he could to eradicate the scourge that had almost ruined him. The "March of Dimes" campaign was the result.

At the Democratic conventions of 1924 and 1928, he aligned himself with the group supporting Alfred E. Smith, New York's governor. When Smith was nominated in 1932, Roosevelt ran for governor of his state and was elected. At the end of his two-year term he was again elected, this time by the greatest majority ever given to a New York governor.

As governor he continued the reform and improvement policies of his predecessor Smith. His achievements attracted nationwide attention. As the depression that began late in 1929 deepened, his efforts to control the mounting business failures, unemployment and distress in his state revealed his abilities as a vigorous leader in grave times.

Swept in as President.

When the national convention met in Chicago in 1932 Roosevelt was quickly chosen. He was swept into office by a plurality of seven million votes, carrying 42 states. Both houses went Democratic.

Before he could take office a wave of bank failures threatened the whole economic structure. The famous "bank moratorium" order, one of Roosevelt's first official acts, closed all banks until they could be re-organized on a sounder basis, thus preventing disastrous runs. In the spring of 1932 came the repeal of the 18th, or prohibition, amendment. Then came the National Industrial Recovery Act, or "NIRA," under which extensive emergency powers were granted to the President. A series of public works were authorized to combat unemployment, together with huge appropriations for direct relief.

The numerous executive and legislative acts of this first term were approved in general as necessary in the face of widespread suffering. A phrase from one of the President's speeches, "a new deal," developed into a title for the whole Roosevelt program.

In 1936 the convention in Philadelphia nominated Roosevelt by acclamation on the first ballot. He carried 46 states in the elections. This second term majority was so overwhelming that many New Dealers began to call it a "mandate from the people." During this second term a great number of measures were passed to increase the economic security of the individual, particularly the workers, farmers and small businessmen.

find and determine that an increase in said tax rate would place upon the taxpayers of the County a heavy and onerous burden and would result in greater delinquencies in the payment of taxes; and

Whereas, said Board of Supervisors does now further find and determine that the refunding of the aforesaid outstanding bonds maturing in the years 1945 and 1946 would be in the best interest not alone of Hancock County but of the holders of the aforesaid outstanding bonds; and

Whereas, the said County is authorized under and by virtue of Sections 8497 to 8518, both inclusive, and Sections 4353 to 4365, both inclusive, of the Mississippi Code of 1942 to issue the refunding bonds of said county for the purpose of refunding the aforesaid bonded indebtedness, whether such bonded indebtedness shall at the time of such refunding be due or to mature in the future, and regardless of whether or not the issuance of such refunding bonds shall create a total bonded indebtedness of said County in excess of the now existing statutory debt limitation, and is authorized to issue such refunding bonds in sufficient amount to pay and retire all of the aforesaid outstanding bonds maturing in the years 1945 and 1946, and is authorized to do so whenever funds available for the payment of said outstanding bonds are not sufficient to pay the same and the interest thereon whenever they may mature; and

Whereas, this board does now find that because of the low interest rate at which the aforesaid maturing bonds may now be refunded, it would be in the best interest of said County that refunding bonds be issued at this time and thereby prevent default being made in the payment of said outstanding bonds at maturity;

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved by the Board of Supervisors of Hancock County, Mississippi, as follows:

Section 1. That, for the purpose of refunding the outstanding Road Protection Bonds of 1938 of Hancock County, Mississippi, aggregating the principal amount and sum of Sixteen Thousand Dollars ($16,000), maturing in the years 1945 and 1946, and which said bonds are more fully set forth and described in the preamble to this resolution, there shall be and there are hereby authorized, ordered and directed to be issued the refunding bonds of said county in the aggregate principal amount and sum of Sixteen Thousand Dollars ($16,000). Both principal of and interest on the said refunding bonds shall be payable in lawful money of the United States of America at the office of the County Depository of Hancock County, Mississippi, in the City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, and the said bonds shall be of the denomination of One Thousand Dollars ($1,000) each, and shall be numbered and shall mature, without the option of prior payment, in the amounts and at the time following, to-wit:

(To Be Concluded)

The Louisville & Nashville Railroad in 1944 received $225,000,000 as income, principally from carrying freight, passengers, express and mail.

Here's what it did with the money:

$84,700,000 went to 34,200 employees in wages
$63,700,000 to the public in taxes
$23,300,000 to industry for materials
$12,300,000 for depreciation and amortization
$10,700,000 for locomotive fuel

$8,000,000 to bondholders for interest
$8,150,000 to stockholders for dividends

These plus certain minor charges amounted to $215,000,000, leaving a balance of $10,000,000 to apply on debt reduction, improvements to property, and for other purposes. The balance represents only 1.9% of the L&N's investment in property, amounting to nearly $540,000,000.

Thus, all interests of the South—homes, families, schools, merchants, mines, industries—benefited from L&N disbursements and service. For 95 years, The Old Reliable has had the privilege and obligation of cooperating in the South's development. When peace comes, it will improve its service and multiply its effort.

Children who save regularly get along better in high school

Many parents have told us that one of the greatest advantages in setting up a savings account for each of their children was this. It develops the habit of thrift, it encourages them to be careful of all the things they own, it eliminates wastefulness, it becomes a tradition. Regardless of the amount deposited—whether it's 50c a week of $5 a week—the result is always the same. Your children are going to do better in high school, and later in college, if they have a weekly program of savings. It takes only a few minutes to open an account, so drop in tomorrow and get them started on a regular program of savings.
